WHY? To see what happens when the mojito goes to Rome.

A European-style bistro and wine bar called Cibo opened in the former Tarpon Bend space on Miracle Mile. For wine connoisseurs, there are more than 400 bottles on rotation (prices range from moderate to money-is-no-object) in the rustic, dim space that's punctuated by butcher-block tables. For those who prefer cocktails, the signature Mojito Italiano is a must. Highlights on the culinary side include polenta fries and a honey-doused Gorgonzola pear pizza.
